Beatitudes written and proclaimed:

Blessed are those who see the connection between all creation for they shall reverence all people and all creation.

Blessed are we who hunger for our broken world to be healed, for we need Your extravagant hospitality of heart home and shelter.

Blessed are those who are in right relationship with the earth/cosmos and all creatures, for they will create a spiral of mercy and peace.

Blessed are those who weep for their tears will renew the earth.

Blessed are they who weep for the earth - its life forms and life support systems - for they will experience its diversity and generosity.

Blessed are the environmentalist – scientist, for they are preserving our land.
