Errors to reflect gratitude delight in the good of your fellow classmates, and your neighbours.

If you take delight in the good of others, you will never be without an occasion for joy. And if the world needs hope and the world needs mercy, it also needs gratitude. Be grateful for all you have.

5 Move with courage and integrity

As you discern and discover your own life's purpose – what you were born to be and do – bring the attributes of courage and integrity to bear on your work. Be brave. Character is who you are, even when no one is looking.
Your integrity is your greatest gift to yourself.

The booklet is dedicated to Marie Chin RSM,
a quiet champion of Human Dignity for All.
